Our photography guidelines apply to all guests. Additionally, we request that anyone receiving payment for the pictures or time spent taking pictures (photo sessions) complete this form.

RATES Skelly's Farm Market currently does not charge photographers a fee to use areas open to the public on our farm. Any normal admission fees for access to certain areas (ex. Sunflower fields) still apply to all guests, including photographers and staff. We are a business. Our ability to continue to maintain beautiful grounds despite the expense relies on guests purchasing product when visiting our property. In lieu of us charging photographer fees and having complicated policies regarding photography, we kindly ask that you or your clients purchase products during your visit and be respectful of our grounds and rules. We reserve the right to change these policies, limit the number of photographers, or limit the number of visits per photographer as the need arises.

HOURS Sessions are only permitted during normal business hours and must conclude at least 30 minutes prior to closing. No sessions before or after hours.

COMMUNICATION Photographer must meet and connect with clients without directions from Skelly's staff. Make sure clients have your phone number.

LIMITS ON EQUIPMENT Photographer must provide all necessary equipment. Equipment should be limited to portable sizes that will not inhibit the experience of other guests. No cords or ladders may be used.

CLEANING & TRASH Photographer and family agrees to leave the premises (land, crops, buildings, equipment) in the same condition as they were when they arrived. All items brought to the Premises are to be removed by the Photographer and family. Any items left will be assumed abandoned and may be discarded with no compensation due.

AREAS ALLOWED Photographer will be given, within Skelly's sole discretion, the possibility to take pictures in areas currently open to the public. No guests are allowed in employee only areas, buildings, fields not open to the public, or on or near farm equipment.

DRONES Drones and piloting drones on our property is forbidden. Additionally, be aware we are in an FAA restricted flight zone.

USE OF LOGO AND NAME Any use of the Skelly logo or name is prohibited without written consent from Skelly's. Allowing photographers onto our property does not represent any type of business relationship between the photographer and Skelly's.
